- In the matter of L (EU) 2014 - Advising a Swiss Bank on a conflict between a £multi-million international restraint order and an international freezing injunction in civil litigation involving restraint of assets and international freezing orders arising from a long-running investigation for bribery, money laundering and abuse of office against a Latvian oligarch.

TERRORISM

Felicity is a specialist in appellate and trial advocacy for serious and complex national, transnational and international individual and corporate crime. She particularly specialises in leading for the defence team in terrorism trials including alleged conspiracies and completed acts. She recently appeared in 3 long terrorism trials in Australia and has a particular expertise in the use of technology and cybercrime in this context. She has appeared and advised in a number of cases that have involved analysis and advice on terrorism and extremist legislation including relating to repatriation of citizens in Syrian camps, the taking of a child to Syria and trials under the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 labelled 'domestic extremism'. As Professor of Legal Practice, she has also lectured in Terrorism law, and provided training in the Bangladesh Judiciary Management Project on Terrorism and Money Laundering. She has published a chapter in the Fourth volume in the European Integration and Democracy Series, devoted to Trans-Atlantic Data Privacy Relations as a Challenge for Democracy: 'Terrorism and Paedophilia on the internet: A Global and Balanced Cyber-Rights Response is Required to Combat Cybercrime, not Knee-Jerk Regulation'.
